

Anaerobic Digester Project Developers

November 7, 2007

The following is a list of individuals who have reported experience in the field of developing agriculture based anaerobic digester projects. Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA) makes no claims as to the level of expertise of these companies but provides this as information. The companies included were selected based upon responses to a survey indicating involvement in development and implementation of anaerobic digester projects. MDA recommends that before you begin working with any company or individual on a project of this magnitude that you thoroughly check several project references.
